

Classification of Living Things

Taxonomy - the classification of living organisms

Binomial Nomenclature – a two-part name given to an organism; the first part is the genus name, the second part is the species name