

Character Reflection

Hot Seat

“The Most Dangerous Game”

Directions: Now that you have been introduced to the characters, you should have many ideas about the characters involved. For the three characters listed below, write an important question that you would like to ask each of them. Then, putting yourself in their shoes, answer the questions as you think they would.

1. Name of character: General Zaroff

My question for the character:

How I think the character would answer the question:

2. Name of character: Rainsford

My question for the character:

How I think the character would answer the question:

3. Name of character: Ivan

My question for the character:

How I think the character would answer the question:

Character Reflection
